

What others say about REACT...

"I have observed Brian's work in many different settings around the globe. I found him to be extremely insightful and catalytic. The partnership movement has been deeply enriched through Brian's strategic involvement"

--Geoff Tunnicliffe, CEO, World Evangelical Alliance

"Brian has been instrumental in helping ChinaSource to realize its vision of seeing God's people work together in China. The counsel and training he has provided have enabled us to move beyond informal networking to real collaboration and partnership building."

--Brent Fulton, President/CEO, ChinaSource

REACT SERVICES

making collaboration your reality

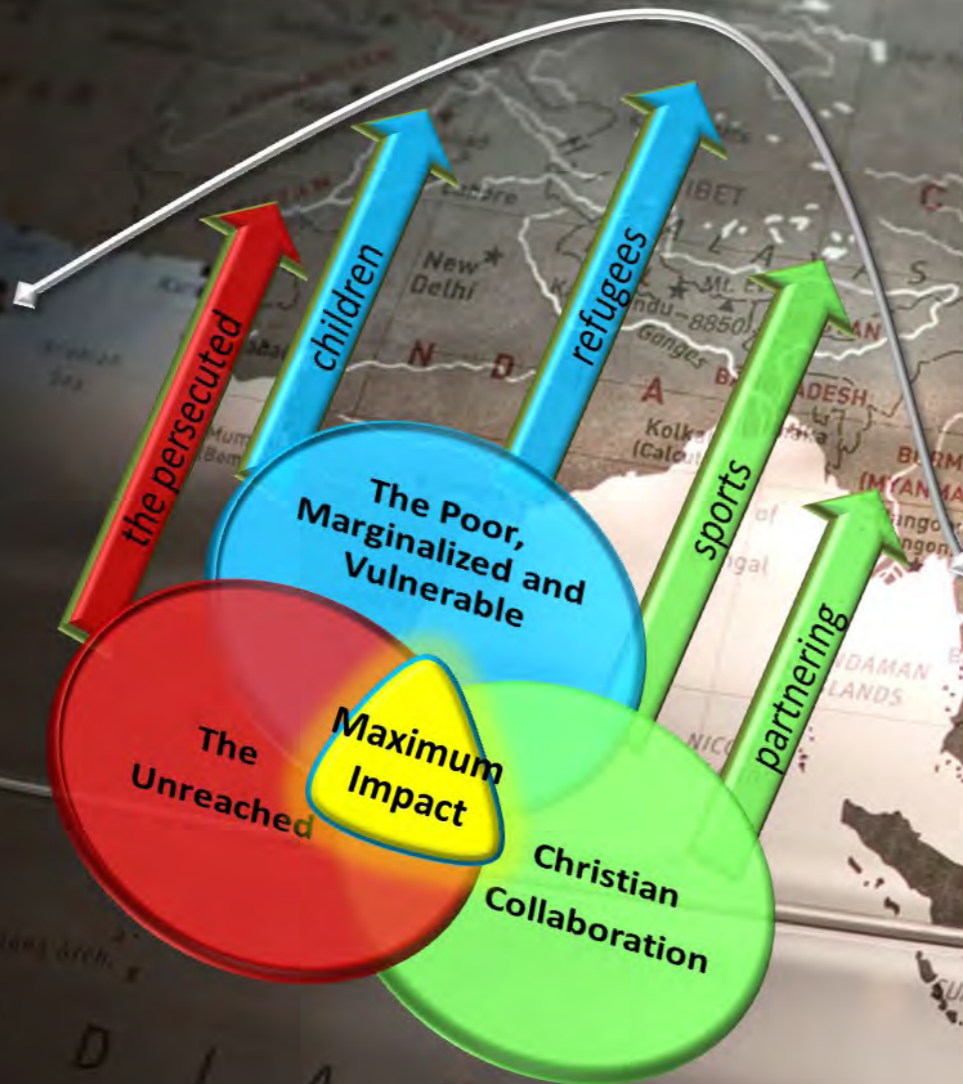

the world collaborates?

What happens when

REACT SERVICES

...a non-profit that guides and equips Christian organizations, churches and businesses to harness the power of partnering for more effective Kingdom results and impact -- primarily among the vulnerable and least reached by the Gospel.

The worldwide effort to bring both humanitarian assistance and relevant exposure to the gospel is staggering, yet it regularly suffers from duplication and lack of coordination. We seek to work in the overlap of the vulnerable and the least reached, bringing needed partnering and collaboration strategies.

REACT SERVICES is uniquely called to:

- Catalyze and facilitate partnering efforts.
- Provide education and training on collaboration.
- Coach the next generation of partnering leaders.

Global partnering efforts involved in maximizing collaborative impact with REACT SERVICES:

- Refugee Highway Partnership
- Global Children's Forum
- Ethne Unreached People Movement
- Religious Liberty Partnership
- Near East Initiatives
- International Sports Coalition

REACT seeks to leverage our involvement in key, strategic ventures and operate on a minimal budget. REACT estimates that through our ministry partners we leverage well over $5 million annually toward Kingdom projects. Yet our annual budget is less than one twentieth of that amount! Thus, a small investment in our efforts pays substantial dividends through our work in making other ministries more effective.
